The Great Premium

Offered for Wheat by the Ohio State Board of Agriculture.

During the past fifteen year there has been a very serious diminution in the production of the wheat crop in Ohio. The Board of Agriculture, during all this period, offered a fair premium for a crop of wheat, and also, what was admitted to be, a fair premium for two bushels of wheat. The specimen two bushels were annually awarded a premium at the state sair, but no application was made for the crop prize. During the years 1854 5 6-7, it is estimated by those best situated to have a knowledge of the matter, that more than ten millions of bushels of wheat were imported into Ohio during these years to supply the deficiency for actual consumption.

Believing that the agricultural public of Ohio will endorse the action of the Board, it resolved at its March meeting to offer a prize of one thousand dollars for the best crop of five acres of wheat, to be awarded when the conditions below stated are complied with in every particular.

The great object is to ascertain if there is any certain method of culture, variety of wheat, for soil, which, during three successive years, can be made to yield forty bushels of good clean wheat per acre. If there is any such method of culture, variety of wheat or soil, then the Board is willing to pay one thousand dollars to the man who demonstrates it, and will produce a written statement of all the details.

There is abundance of evidence to prove that almost annually, there is a crop or crops of wheat in Ohio yielding 40 bushels per acre; but these crops are chance or accidental crops, and the writer of this is not aware that in any instance has this amount been grown by the same person two successive years on either the same or different plats of ground.

The writer of this takes the liberty of suggesting to those who may feel disposed to compete for this prize as follows:

1. The seed wheat should be as nearly as possible of one variety, and not half a dozen varieties mixed together.

2. The seed wheat should be perfectly clean, and weigh fully 60 pounds per bushel. After the wheat has been rendered clean as a fanning mill will clean, the wheat should then be placed in weak lye, all the floating grains skimmed off, and these floating grains used for some purpose other than seed, but all the grains which sink in the lye should be sown.

3. It is suggested by some of the most successful wheat growers in Ohio, that deep plowing immediately before seeding the wheat is detrimental rather than propitious in securing a large yield. They claim that deep plowing in the spring, and shallow plowing in the fall, just previous to seeding, induces the largest crops.

The following is the offer of the Board, together with an enumeration of the details and statements required by the Board:

PREMIUM ON WHEAT, $1,000.

The following premiums will be paid for the greatest number of bushels of wheat grown during three successive years upon the same tract of not less than five acres of land; no one of the crops to yield less than forty bushels per acre:

|---|---|
| Best 5 acres not less than 40 bushels per acre harvested in 1870..... | $200 |
| Best 5 acres not less than 40 bushels per acre harvested in 1871..... | 200 |
| Best 5 acres, not less than 40 bushels per acre harvested in 1872..... | 200 |
| Best 5 acres, having yielded the greatest average during the three years, 1870 1871 and 1872,..... | 400 |
| | $1,000 |

These premiums to be awarded upon the following statements, (from I. to VI. inclusive) sworn to and subscribed before a proper authority, and filed in the office of the secretary of the Ohio State Board of Agriculture, on or before the first Wednesday of January, 1870; and also the statements from and including III to VII inclusive, to be filed with said secretary annually on or before 3d of January, 1871 and 1872, and statement No. VII, by January 3, 1873:

1. An accurate description of the soil and subsoil, a general description of the "lay" of the land, a description of the surroundings, forest, hills, etc.

[At least five pounds of the soil, taken so as to include from the surface to the depth of ten inches, together with five pounds of the subsoil, taken so as to include all from ten inches from the surface to twenty inches from the surface. The soil should be taken up before the fall rains have set in, and each (the soil and subsoil) put in a separate package and forwarded to the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture by January 1, 1870.]

2. A statement of what crops were grown on the tract during the years 1866 67-68 69, and whether the crops were good, bad, or indifferent how often and when manured during these years, the quantity and kind of manure applied to each acre, as accurately stated as possible.

3. A statement of the kind, amount and condition of manure; when and how applied in contemplation of the premium crop.

4. A detailed account or statement of the depth of plowing, kind of plow used, number of times the tract was plowed, the precise time of the month that it was plowed; also a statement of any other method of cultivating the soil, if any, previous to sowing with wheat.

5 Time and manner of sowing, as well as the depth at which the seed was sown.

6. The weight, quality, and variety of seed wheat, and the amount of seed sown per acre.

7. A detailed statement of the entire cost [in money, labor and material] in producing the crop as well as a sworn statement of the amount of the crop—both grain and straw.

JOHN H. CLIPPART.

A Spicy Letter from Grace Greenwood.

Grace Greenwood publishes the following racy and characteristic letter in the Philadelphia Star:

EDITOR OF THE STAR—Sir: I find in your issue of yesterday the following paragraph:

"Dr. Lippincott (the husband of Grace Greenwood,) a fourth-class clerk in the post office department, was an applicant for the position of general superintendent in the post office department, but failed to get the appointment."

During the visit of Mr Macready to to this country, as he was traveling on a western steamboat, he was pointed out by a waggish clerk to a rough backwoodsman, as Ole Bull, who was then giving concerts in the west. The great tragedian sat apart on the deck, wrapped in poetic contemplation & insulted dignity; but the tall Missourian strode immediately up to him, and with a startling slap on the shoulder, thus addressed him: "Hello, old hoss! Old Bull! whar's your fiddle?"

The stately actor turned upon him, and with a withering look and in the most tragic tone, replied: "Sir, I am not a horse, neither am I a bull, neither have I a fiddle."

In like manner, I have to reply that Mr Lippincott, of Philadelphia, "the husband of Grace Greenwood," is not a doctor; neither is he a fourth-class clerk in the post office department; neither has he been "an applicant for the position of general superintendent of the post office department;" neither has he failed to get the appointment.

As for the excellent Dr. Lippincott, is it not enough that he should miss of the office to which he aspired, that you must divorce him from his lawful wife, a most estimable lady, and bestow him upon a stranger?

As for us, belonging to another branch of the Lippincott tree, we have applied for no office at Washington, though we have, I will confess, held ourselves open to the proffer of a first class foreign mission. With slight solicitation we would consent to be "a looker on in Vienna," though, perhaps, Madrid would be a better point, as our worldly possessions principally consist of certain dilapidated "Castles in Spain." That we missed of Paris was not, we feel assured, because our honored president loved Philadelphia less, but Galena more. A Curtin has fallen upon our hopes of St. Petersburg, and if we mourn, it will not be Russian Sables. As for the Court of St James, it seems "your Motley is the only wear."

I think I have some reason to complain of you editors for apparently classing me among the 'bigamistic writers of the day," in assigning to me so many amiable consorts. If you would only vary the name occasionally there would be some relief in the variety; but tonjours Lippincott.

The same disclaimer I now put forth for the benefit of Dr Lippincott must appy to Mr. J. B. Lippincott, the great publisher, and to Gen Lippincott, late doorkeeper of the senate.

They are "all honorable men," doubtless, but they are not my husbands; and I hereby warn all persons against trusting me on their account.

GRACE GREENWOOD.

Why Do Not Our Teeth Last our Lifetime.

That they are made perfect, if the right materials are furnished, there cannot be a doubt.

But are the necessary elements furnished to children as they are the young of other animals? And do we not subject our teeth to deleterious influences from which animals that obey their natural instincts are exempt?

The forming young of other animals, while dependent on the mother, get lime, and phosphorus, and potash and silex, and all the other elements of which the teeth are composed, from the blood or milk of the mother, and she gets them from the food which nature provides, containing these elements in their natural proportions.

But where can the child in its forming state get these necessary elements, whose mother lives principally on starch, butter, and sugar, neither of which contains a particle of lime, phosphorus, potash, or silex? Nature performs no miracles. She makes teeth as glass is made, by combining the elements which compose them according to her own chemical principles. And this illustration is more forcible because the composition of the enamel of the teeth and of glass is very nearly identical; both at least requiring the combination of silex with some alkaline principle.

If, then, the mother of an unborn or nursing infant lives on white bread and butter, pastry and confectionery, which contain no silex, and very little of the other elements which compose the teeth; nothing short of a miracle can give her a child with good teeth well enameled.

But what article of food will make good teeth? Good milk will make good teeth, for it makes them for calves. Good meat will make good teeth, for it makes them for lions and wolves. Good vegetables and fruit make good teeth, for they make them for monkeys.

Good corn, oats, barley, wheat, rye, and indeed, everything that grows, will make good teeth, if eaten in their natural state, no elements being taken out; for every one of them does make teeth for horses, cows, sheep or some other animals. But starch, sugar, lard, or butter will not make good teeth. You tried them all with your child's first teeth, and failed; and your neighbors have tried them, and indeed all Christendom has tried them, and the result is that a man or a woman at forty, with good sound teeth, is a very rare exception.—Dr A J Bellows.

Spectacles.

With most persons there is an epoch in life when the eyes become slightly flattened. It arises, probably, from a diminished activity of the secreting vessels. The consequence is, that the globe is not kept quite as completely distended with fluids as in youth and middle age. There is thus an elongated axis of vision. A book is held further off to read. Finally, becoming more flattened by the same inactivity within, the difficulty is met by putting on convex glasses. This is the waning vision of age. If however, when that advancing imperfection is first realized, the individual persists in the attempt to keep the book in the old focus of vision—even if he reads under perplexing disadvantages, never relaxing, but perseveringly proceeding just as he did when his eyes were in the meridians of their perfection, the slack vessels will at last come up to his assistance, and the original focal distance will be re-established.

This statement will unquestionably be combatted, energetically, by those who use glasses. But it will be a waste of forensic powder, because the fact is established beyond cavil. We dont pretend it will be successful in every instance; but generally, if glasses are once resorted to, then the opportunity of doing without them is forever lost.

Very aged men may be noticed reading fine print; and ladies, too, by scores, who resisted glasses at the age of life referred to who enjoy all the comfort of a distinct vision, and they will, until, like the deacon's chaise, every stick in the vehicle falls to pieces at the same time.

Therefore, begin with a firm resolution never to use glasses of any kind, for reading or writing. The ancients knew nothing about such contrivances; if they had, there would have been poor eyes in abundance, and oculists to meet the emergency. Cicero never complained of imperfect vision at the age of sixty-three. He even wrote his last letter by torchlight, on the eve of being put to death by the waiting soldiers. Humboldt died at ninety-two, having never been embarrassed with those modern contrivances, lunettes. John Quincey Adams, illustrious for scholarship, at a ripe old age saw with out them. Indeed, it would be a laborious enterprise to collect a catalogue of names in the chronicle of literary fame, of men and women, who were independent of glasses.

A friend who has travelled in Germany, reports the following incident, for which he vouches: During the Summer, Dr J C Ayer spent some weeks at Dresden, in confidence with the chemists of central Europe, where he was heralded as the inventor of the world renowned medicine that bear his name, and considered one of the American celebrities. While riding, one day, his open carriage fell in with the cortege of the King of Saxony, on a drive from the review. The doctor soon became the chief attraction and received the marked attention of the people, who were even more demonstrative in their courtesies to him than to the king himself whom they see so often. King John observing this, wrapped his military cloak around him and reclined upon his seat, while our great American medicine man did the honors for the royal retinue, graciously bowing, hat in hand, on every side, unwearied by his excessive condescension to this old monarch's people.

The past winter in Canada has been remarkable for its depth of snow fall. The average fall of snow for the last twenty years has been about seventy-nine and a half inches. In 1861, an unusual year for snow, it was ninety-six and a half inches. But between October and March last there was a fall of nearly one hundred and ninety-six inches. Last winter deserves to be known as the White Winter in Canada.

Young ladies are generally honest, but they will hook dresses.

If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull or stupid or, debilitated, pain or pressure in the head, take cold easily, you may rest assured that you have the catarrh. Thousands annually without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by the physicians. R V Pierce, M D, of Buffalo, N Y, is the proprietor of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy.—a perfect specific for catarrh, cold in the head, or catarrhal headache, which he sends to any address, post paid, for sixty cents, or four packages for $2.00. ## Constitutional Amendment--YES.

Republican Union Convention.

The republicans of Stark county will meet at Canton, on Saturday, June 12th, next, at the Auditor's office, to select delegates for the state convention to be held on the 23d of June following.

At the same time and place the republican central committee are requested to meet for the purpose of fixing the time of holding the county primary election.

By order of Committee,

WM. MCKINLEY, JR., Chn.

TWENTY TWO states have now adopted the constitutional amendment, Indiana being the last on the list. Seven more required, and they are soon coming to the issue, to ratify the measure. The imperial democracy are hoping they can somehow induce ten states to hold out against the reform, and thus enable about a quarter of the public to rule the remaining three-fourths, but the days are gone when a minority can rule the nation. In the times past, during the pride and power of the democracy, somewhat less than 300,000 slaveholders made laws for the United States, but their glory has departed—Ichabod is written on their ambition.

The contemplated railroad connection between Toledo and somewhere in this region, continues to keep up its interest. Not only the papers northwest of us are freely expressing themselves in favor of this proposed project, but our Tuscarawas county friends seem alive to its vast importance, and are warmly in favor of such a plan, or a similar one, as was once proposed, being carried out. Continued agitations of the matter will sooner or later result in a practical termination.

Quite a number of papers in this section of the state are referring in the most favorable terms to Mr. Sherrard, of Steubenville, as candidate for the republican party for state treasurer. Mr. S. is certainly a very competent man for that responsible position, and if nominated at the June convention, at Columbus, will beat any candidate the opposition can furnish.

Bro. Rukenbrod, one of the members of the Ohio legislature from Columbiana county, and editor of the Salem Republican, most truthfully characterizes the last attempt of the copperhead democracy at making a black law—as black, if possible, as their inmost gizzards. But what will it amount to? Nothing more than a milestone in the career of infamy of the party enacting it. As well try to dam the Niagara or to stop the career of the hurricane as to arrest the progress of ideas—for the black man will be a voter in spite of all their powers

Revised Democratic Infamy.

The last hours of the democratic legislature, just adjourned, were disgraced by the passage of certain party measures, characteristic of the long established meanness of the party controlling the actions of that body.

Among those most prominent, was the revised visible admixture bill; full of malignity, and hate, and persecution against the colored citizens of our state. It was passed into a law under the operation of the previous question, thereby refusing the friends of constitutional law or common justice to say one word against the iniquitous measure.

The act provides that a negro must go to the penitentiary from one to five years for voting, while a non-resident white man or an unnaturalized foreigner, for the same offense, is punished sufficiently if he goes to the county jail and spends from one to six months there. It also says that if a person induces a negro to vote he must atone for his offense by spending from one to five years in the penitentiary, but if he induces a non-resident to vote he can satisfy the vengeance of the law by spending from one to six months in the county jail. Our statute provides that a non-resident must know that he is an illegal voter before he can be convicted of illegal voting, but this law says that it is not necessary for a negro to know that he is an illegal voter. A non-resident is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty—the colored citizen is regarded as guilty until he proves himself innocent.

The following is the text of this unjust enactment, which will, in the end, as surely as that Right will triumph, rebound, with stunning effects on the heads of its perpetrators:

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That any person who shall vote at any election held under the laws of this state, not being a white male citizen of the United States, shall on conviction thereof, be imprisoned in the penitentiary and kept at hard labor not more than five years nor less than one.

SEC 2 Any person who shall procure, aid, assist, counsel or advise any person not being a white male citizen of the United States to vote at any election held under the laws of this state shall on convicion thereof, be imprisoned in the penitentiary and kept at hard labor not more than five nor less than one year; and shall also be liable to a civil action for a penalty in the sum of one thousand dollars, which may be brought against him by any elector of the county or district in which the district was received, in the court of common pleas of any county where process can be served upon him; provided, that there shall be but one recovery for each violation of this act; and a failure to prosecute or convict shall not in any manner affect affect the right to proceed for the recovery of such penalty.

SEC. 3. If any judge of an election shall receive or sanction the reception of a vote from a person not being a white male citizen of the United States, on conviction thereof, he shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary and kept at hard labor not more than five years nor less than one, and shall also be liable to a civil action for a penalty in the sum of one thousand dollars, which may be brought against him by any elector in the county or district in which the vote was received, in the court of common pleas of any county where process can be served upon him; provided, that there shall be but one recovery for each violation of this act, and the failure to posecute or convict shall not in any manner affect the right to proceed for the recovery of such penalty.

SEC. 4. All prosecutions under the provisions of this act shall be by indictment before the court of common pleas in the county where the offense was committed; and this act shall be given in charge to the grand jury at each term of the court of common pleas by the presiding judge thereof.

SEC. 5. This act shall be in force from and after its passage.

The New York legislature recently passed a law authorizing one of the church organizations of that state, the Catholic, to apply a certain proportion of the educational fund to their special benefit. We may not know all the circumstances which led to this sort of legislation, but it looks very much like a blow at free schools; for if one sect or party can thus be favored so can another, and when it becomes general there is an end to our free schools, one of the great boasts of the American people. Certainly it cannot be that this backward step is to be followed by others of a similar character, but that it will soon be retraced, and the intelligent people of the Empire State permitted to have free schools without specially favoring any sect or party. Let there be no trifling with this great agency, which enables all, from the poorest to the richest, to secure the great advantages of a liberal education.

The Britishers dont like Mr Sumner's great speech, in which he expresses so well the feelings of the American people on the Alabama question. Why they should complain of it is a little singular, for the very strongest points Mr. S. made in it as against the course of that government during the war, are based on their own precedents, or have been enunciated by their leading statesmen. England knows that we had a terrible civil war; that their government recognized the rebellion as a legal institution; that their leading merchant princes, with the permission, if not the connivance of that government, built, furnished and aided in manning the Alabama and other piratical vessels; that these pirates destroyed scores of our merchant vessels, and that since these outrages they have never offered a satisfactory excuse or atonement for such flagrant wrongs, not only in causing pecuniary loss, but in aiding to prolong the war. So if the British government would practically carry out their own theory, as quoted by Mr. Sumner, and establish their favorite doctrine in regard to international affairs, it cannot repudiate the sentiments and practices of their own statesmen and government, but should, in consistency, try to make amends for the great wrongs following their course in 1861 2 and '3. There is no need of talking and gassing about the question—it is a plain one, and all the intelligent people of the English nation certainly know it, and when they speak candidly acknowledge their error.

LOOK A LITTLE OUT—for Skiff & Gaylord's Minstrels, of Philadelphia, a troupe of experienced and successful performers, who have long achieved success in their profession, will give our citizens lots of amusement on Thursday evening, June 3d, in Madison Hall. But it needs no coaxing to get our people out when there is fun ahead—a hint is sufficient to crowd the hall.

See advertisment in another place for Howe's celebrated sewing machine, for which Mr M Schafer is agent here. One of the machines can be seen at Humberger & Son's store.

A car load of packed hay was standing on the side track yesterday, at Lawrence, we understand, when a spark from the locomotive of a passing train communicated to the hay, which was soon in a blaze, and the fire did not stop until the entire car and its contents were consumed.

That our locality is increasing in business is evidenced by the fact that Mr C. W. Wiffison has hung out his merchant tailor's sign indicating that the he is prepared to make coats, and the rest for all such as call on him. The shoemaker's sign, also at our common entrance, is an old institution.

Nottingham laces, a large assortment, a Ricks'.

MR. EDITOR.—I notice in a somewhat lengthy ordinance in a late number of your paper, defining the duties of certain officers of the government. Will you oblige me by informing me what the duties of the city solicitor are? I am led to make the inquiry, because I notice a new instalment of rum holes on Erie street, and would like to know if the duties of the city solicitor permit him to stand idly by and suffer such things? NEMESIS.

HEARTH AND HOME.—This peerless newspaper for the hearth and home continues its superior excellence in every department. That was a happy thought of S M Pettingill & Co., providing for the happiness of nations in the publication of a newspaper that contributes at once to the delight, amusement and advantage of every home. And the enterprise has succeeded.

There is now a special inducement to some, to subscribe. A new story is commenced in No. 22 (March 22,) entitled "Marrying Well," by Mrs. R. B. Edson. Mrs. Edson does not write an entire volume to portray a single lesson, but each chapter is full of instruction.

TERMS: single copies, $4 in advance; three copies $10; five copies, $15.

Address all communications to Pettingill, Bates & Co., Publishers, 37 Park Row, New York.

Political Conventions.

Calls for political state conventions, &c., have been issued as follows:

May 20—Republican convention for third congressional district of Illinois, to nominate a successor to Hon. E. B. Washburne.

May 27—Kentucky republican state convention in Lexington.

May 27—Virginia colored men's state convention in Richmond.

June 1—Maryland colored men's state convention in Baltimore (called by the colored citizens of Baltimore to further their political organization in the state, and to appoint a state central committee.)

June 2—New York state temperance convention in Syracuse.

June 1—New York colored men's state convention in Albany.

June 10—Iowa republican state convention in Des Moines.

June 23—Pennsylvania republican state convention in Philadelphia.

June 23—Ohio republican state convention in Columbus.

June 24—Maine republican state convention in Bangor.

July 15—Pennsylvania democratic state convention in Harrisburg.

July 14—California republican state convention in Sacramento.

Charges on the Pacific Railroad.

Now that the Pacific Railroad is fully completed and has commenced through operations, we have an official publication in the San Francisco papers of a schedule of fares, as follows:

| San Francisco to | |
|---|---|
| Chicago | $247 25 |
| Toledo | 255 50 |
| Cleveland | 258 50 |
| Buffalo | 262 75 |
| Albany | 270 00 |
| New York | 272 20 |
| Boston | 275 00 |
| Detroit | 255 75 |
| Suspension Bridge | 262 75 |
| Indianapolis | 255 05 |
| Cincinnati | 258 70 |
| Pittsburgh | 261 25 |
| Harrisburg | 269 20 |
| Philadelphia | 270 20 |
| Baltimore | 269 70 |
| Washington | 270 70 |
| Louisville | 260 30 |

These charges, considered independently, do not encourage the hope of low prices for the conveyance of passengers. but, taken in connection with the circumstances of the case, there is much to induce the expectation of a reduction in fares. We must have a beginning, and that must be an experiment. Should the schedule be placed too low at first, and subsequently it should become indispensable to make it higher, universal grumbling would result. But a reduction would be welcome and popular. Hence it is the highest interest of the two companies that own the line to avoid all chances of future complication and public dissatisfaction, by providing a tariff of charges that will bear a diminution, with the intention of making such a change whenever the teachings of experience justify it. For these reasons we do not take the published schedule as any standard of the future rate of prices.

The Son's Appeal.

Air:—Father, Come Home.

Oh father, dear father, do please hurry home,
My confidence no longer abuse,
You promised again and again when you come
You'd bring me a suit of new clothes.

My old ones are sadly out of repair,
And new ones I need as you know;
So father, dear father, the place I have found
Is at the fine store of S Koch & Co.

It is'nt very oft that a favor I ask,
And this one you cannot deny,
For you know that it costs a very small sum
And Koch & Co's I am wanting to try.

Then hurry, dear father, do pray hurry up,
No more of your precious time lose,
Think of the scorn to which your child is exposed,
And hurry, hurry to S Kock & Co's.

Oh, how can you bear the soul thrilling thought,
As you read in the papers the news:—
S Kock & Co's fine style suits can be bought
For a few dollars or more if you choose.

Now, father, dear father, you must not forget
S Koch & Co's in the Opera House Block,
Is the best place in town for a very cheap suit,
Or anything else of their splendid new stock.

The oil men gave our citizens another greasing last evening. We hope they will be successful in relieving the ailments of applicants, if they do bleed their pockets a little.

You can find a good assortment of fancy cassimeres at Ricks' which are being sold at very low rates, if you need coat, pants or vest give them a call.

SIGNIFICANT.—It is a somewhat significant fact that the only speaker at the late radical convention scrimmage in Nashville who succeeded in commanding attention was a colored delegate from an interior county.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

CERTIFICATE.

We have used the Files Re-Cut by Jacob Schaefling & Bros, of Columbus, Ohio, and find them equal to the best new Files in market. They are well cut and well tempered, therefore we have taken the agency to establish their trade in this section. Those who have old files bring them to us and we will forward and have them done in good order.

"RIVERSIDE"

Lots For Sale.

That beautiful tract of land known as the

on the bluff west of Massillon, and on the western bank of the Tuscarawas river together with the joining lands has just been divided up into town lots, which are recorded as the Riverside Addition to the town of Massillon.

The lots are of good size and will be sold at such easy terms of payment as to place a home within the reach of all. The beauty of the location is unsurpassed, and we believe it is a conceded fact that a location on the west bank of a running stream of water is always more healthy than one on the east bank.

It is apparent to all that the business and population of Massillon are very rapidly increasing; it is also apparent that public attention is directed to the west side of the river as the most desirable point for a home now in the market, or that probably ever will be in the market again. We think therefore that it is safe to predict that in a very few years this grand addition

RIVERSIDE,

Will be covered over with dwelling houses, which will be occupied by a large proportion of the busy citizens of the city of Massillon.

Every man who has a family or ever expects to have one ought to have a home in his own right, then he will be independent, if not rich. A better opportunity will never again be offered of securing one so dsairable, so cheap; and so easily paid for.

Also a very desirable out lot, of about eight acres, adjoining Massillon, on the Canton road, will divide well into three or four pasture lots. Also some be utiful lots in the east part of the city.

The plots may be examined, and lots selected at my store. [292] P. G. ALBRIGHT.

Dr Watson is improving the front of his drug store, modernizing the doors and windows, so that it looks like a new place. The long and well established business reputation of this house has placed it in the front ranks of mercantile enterprises, and the proprietor and his faithful assistant are well and favorably known to our community and the surrounding country.

Mr Reed, one of the proprietors of the big cornfield, consisting of one hundred and fifteen acres, near Navarre, says they have the crop nearly or quite in. Any body who has a fancy for hoeing corn can find a good opening and long rows in this patch.

The cold weather of last week, accompanied by rain, is said to have been rather hard on planted corn, but the wheat looks magnificent.

JOURNAL OF THE TIMES.—Somebody left a copy of this paper at our office the other day, and on looking it over the reader is reminded of what transpired here in those days. The paper was published by D W Huntsman and J K Merwin, and was printed in the room on Erie street over the Union National Bank, now occupied by the Good Templars. The date of this number is July 8, 1858—nearly eleven years ago. The cards of Dr Childester, dentist: D Atwater, grocer; A Metz, M D.; Fletcher's picture gallery; K Jarvis, life insurance and real estate agent; F T Hurxthal, M D.; J W Church attorney at law; Bucher & Kachler, druggists and booksellers; G P Reed, millinery goods, &c., appear in its columns; and the advertisements of R Kirkpatrick, watch dealer; C M Russell's establishment; S C McDonald, Tremont House; Edwin Jarvis, tin shop; H Knobloch, grocery and provisions; F Focke, insurance agent; I B Dangler, dry goods merchant; C M Russell & Co, furniture dealers; P G Albright, groceries and provisions; Reeves & Crumine, marble works; J Wendling, harness and saddles; F Hookway, clothing store; Dangler & Co., hardware; G P Reed, dry goods: Jos Coleman, watches and jewelry; G Baugh, furniture; N Minich, hats and caps: J J Hoffman, postmaster, and a few others, beside a fair share of foreign advers. At that date the churches were supplied by the following pastors: D C Blood, Presbyterian; H M McAbee, Methodist; E H Cumming, Episcopal; J C Stark, Disciple; —— Abele, German Lutheran; —— Falk, Catholic. The town officers were I H Brown, mayor, E Jarvis, recorder; Geo Harsh, J Schertzer, C London, Wm Brown, C Russell, councilmen, and R Breed, marshal. Obituary notices appear of the death of Elizabeth Wileman, of Marlboro and Samuel Steffa, of this place. Butter was quoted at 12½ cts, corn 35 a 37, eggs 7, flour $4:50 a $5.00, hay $6.00, oats 28 a 35, potatoes do, wheat 75 a 85 cts. But few locals appear in this number. Harvesting had just commenced, and the hot weather raised the mercury up to 96. Age improves newspapers—old files are often vivid records of the past.

MESSRS. MCDONALD & BRUCE are each day adding new customers to their already large and increasing trade. Sugars especially, and teas and coffees in particular, they are selling decidedly cheap.

Boats are frequently bringing large quantities of lumber to this place, as there seems to be an unusual demand for it, in consequence of the number of buildings going up Our Canton neighbors also are coming here to procure supplies for their city, as that town is growing fast.

Mr Daughaday, of the firm of Miller with Daughaday, Canton, has just gone east for a new supply of goods—large quantities of which they are selling every day. Enterprise brings business. They are not afraid to advertise.

All kinds of canned fruits, nowhere to be excelled in quality or price. Canned tomatoes, warranted as good as when first put up, at 25 cts per can. at McDonald & Bruce's

The continuous rain last Faiday caused a considerable raise in the roaring Tuscarawas, but not enough to commit any depradations.

The community in the vicinity of the Tremont house were considerably stirred up one night last week in consequence of the screams of a woman on a canal boat near the Tremont st. bridge What the trotible was report has not said—officially.

Frnaclles, dried peaches of the choicest fruits. Also received to day a large assortment of New York market and clothes baskets, cedar pails, &c., at

McDonald & Bruce s

Mr F Warthouse, one of our most active and successful mechanics in stone work, in a short time, expects to make a visit to Germany, his fatherland, where he will be for several months—perhaps may not return until next spring.

Pickerel and white fish, in kits or half barrels, (spring caught) at a bargain, at

McDonald & Bruce's.

Gen E F Schneider, of this county, who has held the highest military office in Ohio for some two years, has resigned, and will now devote his attention to the practice of law at Canton. Capt Wm Knapp succeeds him in office at Columbus.

Not long since we complained of the mud on the streets and roads—now we expect to hear sundry declamations about a plentiful supply of dust.

Hoop skirts just received at Ricks' of all the latest styles.

Summer hats, summer coats, &c., will soon be in requisition, and the man with the white coat on the streets wont be an oddity. The tiny bonnets of last season have not grown much in size, however they may have increased in expense.

DEDICATION.—Our German friends of St John's church were very fortunate in selecting last Sunday as the time at which to dedicate their new place of worship on the corner of Tremont and Mill streets. Morning services were had in the German language, Revs. Ham of Manchester, and Kortheur of this place, officiating. A very large audience was present, At three o'clock the house was again filled with an attentive, intelligent and interested audience who listened to preaching, in English, by Mr. Lynch of the M E church. In his remarks he attached a leading importance to the influence of churches in general, as it was appropriate under the circumstances. Some 35,000 or 40,000 ministers, he said, were teaching the people of this country weekly in their religious duties. Rev. R. L. Williams, Presbyterian, followed in brief, earnest and pointed remarks, in English, enforcing his ideas as to dedicating, not only the church, but our everyday lives to religious duty. A liberal collection was taken to aid in defraying the expenses of building and finishing the house. Everybody seemed interested in listening to the choir and the new organ, which discoursed fine music at appropriate intervals. Denmark and other anthems sounded quite familiar. Taking it all together the day is one which will long be remembered by many who were present.

A very fine assortment of jaconet lawns and mottled ginghams, at Ricks'.

It is noticeable in our neighboring exchanges, of late, that there is more of a friendly feeling manifesting itself between rival towns than used to be evinced. This is as it should be. The spirit of jealousy, and antipathy which is often seen, is not a commendable phase of public feeling. Editors of papers have been very much to blame for creating and fostering this feeling of enmity between towns and villages, which is not followed by good results. Far better is it to commend what is worthy of emulation, no matter if it does not occur in our town, but happens at some rival place, than to foster the spirit of animosity which has too often marked the history of many places. Towns and cities, like individuals, have their days of prosperity and adversity, and when misfortune befals a place it is not generous to taunt its people in the times of their troubles—better give them a word of sympathy.

WHAT can the matter be with our brothers of the Salem Republican and the Canton R. R. that they are so vehemently pitching into Jesse Duck, the newly appointed collector for this district? Jesse is a big, fat man, and can stand a goodly share of lambasting, but why he is catching it so vigorously is the mystery to us. Certainly he is not a dead duck to be thus shot at. Of course the copperhead papers enjoy this fun hugely, and are helping to give Mr. D. jesse to the best of their abilities, but their efforts dont hurt him. During the four years in which Mr. Duck was sheriff of Columbiana county we have not known that he committed any flagrant act of wickedness. Certainly he was not guilty of theft, burglary, arson, homicide, or any of those big crimes. He has been a rather lucky man in securing offices, and for our part we dont envy him on that account. But there are mysteries in politics that all of us cannot fathom. Later:

We are glad to hear that the appaient difference which have manifested themselves of late between Bro. Rukenbrod and Mr Duck are amicably adjusted. All that was necessary to effect this were a few explanations of misunderstandings.

ODD.—On Monday afternoon the denizens of Main street were startled with the sound of that beautiful musical instrument, the gong, and on looking out to find from whence the noise proceeded we all saw a man standing in his buggy with the aforesaid specimen of Chinese ingenuity; and after its melody ceased to enchant the ear, the man raised his voice, uttering the news to all listeners in the largest capitals his sonorous voice could command, that he was about to exhibit a live seal in a short time, the sight to be free gratis for nothing. So about dark this man and his assistants were to be seen on the corner of Main and Mill streets, perched on a four wheeled vehicle, accompanied with the promised live seal. The animal seemed very uneasy, for a crowd soon collected about the show, when the proprietors began to tell the other part of the exhibition, and that was that they had seal oil for sale, which possessed great healing powers. Rheumatism, weak backs and various other ills stood no chance after a few applications of this magic panacea. Of course lots of bottles were disposed of at the rate of 50 and 100 cents each, so that the seal show appeared to pay the proprietors quite liberally. Those who invested will now have an opportunity to try its merits We have had Macedonian oil, Wizard oil, Magic oil, Seal oil and other greasy adventurers among us, and what may come next is for the future to decide. Has anybody been humbugged by them?

A complete assortment of glass and queensware, refrigerators, ice chests, filterers and ice cream freezers, at a less price than can be found elsewhere in the city. At

McDonald & Bruce's.

BIG BOOT.—George Snyder, shoe dealer, has just put up his sign in the shape of a big boot, on Main street, and nobody need mistake his place of business.

Somebody says their are several babies in town afflicted with the measles—perhaps a good many of them if the facts were all known.

From the nature of the vocal strains that pierced the ears of our people the other day it seemed as if somebody was interfering with the largest liberty of certain hogs, which were promenading the streets. It ought to be known by this time that there is an ordinance requiring all such customers to be confined in very limited quarters.

SIDE SADDLE—For sale, an good condition, nearly new, never used but little. Persons desiring to purchase such an article will, please call on Dr A H Johnston, dentist, over Conrad's hardware store

The velocipede here seems to be a dead concern so far as our public knows anything of it. No bicycles or any other cycles of that sort interfere with people traveling on the streets or sidewalks. Like a meteor the velocity of the velocipede as rapidly vanished—or seemed to—as it came upon us. And it appears to be so in many places, though at others much interest is excited in this means of travel.

We understand that the members of St. John's church contemplate erecting a schoolhouse ere long for the use of their children Where it is to be located is not yet known.

Grading on the railroad has been finished as far down as the principal stone quarry—perhaps a quarter of a mile north of the river bridge. It is said that laboring men are difficult to find to work on the track.

The workmen will soon have the room in the opera building designed for a drug store, finished ready for occupancy.

The water works occasionally getting out of repair gives employment to a number of laboring men and mechanics. This institution is one of the most useful and efficient connected with the advantages of our city.

Our city council has occasionally, in accordance with the wishes of some of the citizens, discussed the propriety of building a market house and a city hall, but thus far have decided to do neither.

Not long since some person among us counted up the entire number of stores of all discriptions, in Massillon, and was surprised to find that there were upwards of seventy. That number of business places would indicate a considerable amount of business, and there is a vast quantity of buying and selling done here. But we should have more manufacturing establishments.

Our old friend, Mr. Jesse Duck of Salem, the newly appointed collector of the 17th district, paid Massillon a brief business visit on yesterday. It has been stated that he proposed to have his office at Alliance, and he may place it there, if he can sell his valuable property at Salem, but so far as present indications are known he will have his office at home. To accommodate those who pay revenue tax Mr D proposes to visit, once a month, those places where these taxes are paid.

A GREAT REMEDY

Throat and Lung Diseases.

Pine Tree Tar Cordial.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safeguard and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the pine tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite.

It strengthens the debilitated system.

It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucous or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs.

Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation,

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with the positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.—

Consumption of the lungs, Cough, Sore Throat, and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

We are often asked why are not other remedies in the market for consumption, coughs, colds, and other pulmonary affections equal to Dr Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial. We answer—

1st. It cures not by stopping cough but by loosening and assisting nature to through off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, causing irritation and cough.

2d. Most throat and lung remedies are composed of anodynes, which allay the cough for a while, but by their constringing effects the fibers become hardened and the unhealthy fluids coagulate and are retained in the system, causing disease almost beyond the control of our most eminent physicians,

3d. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial, with its assistants, are preferable, because they remove the cause of irritation of the mucuous membrane and bronchial tubes, assist the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purify the blood thus scientifically making the cure perfect.

Dr Wishart has on file at his office hundreds and thousands of certificates of cures from men and women of unquestionable character who were once given up to die, but through the providence of God were completely restored to health by the Pine Tree Tar Cordial. A physician in attendance who can be consulted in person or by mail, free of charge Price $1.50 per bottle, $11 per doz. Sent by express on receipt of price. Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

ERADICATES ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP, and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints the remnants of diseases hereditary or otherwise and is taken by adults and children with perfect SAFETY.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

Do not Trifle With Danger.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments, neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly by invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to languish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the assimilation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed, this invaluable invigorant and anti-septic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always reduces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest; though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object, under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mixed with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome chyle. It, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty headache, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms, and indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy. 2m 4t

A CLEAR, SMOOTH SKIN and BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION follows the use of HEMBOLD'S CONCENTRATED EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA.

It removes Black spots, pimples and all eruptions of the skin. 2m

IN THE SPRING MONTHS, the system naturally undergoes a change, and HEMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA is an assistant of the greatest value. 2m

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum & sugar. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

DR. In some cases it may fail; but, equally, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.*

ZINGARI BITTERS.

A Safe Blood Purifier,
A Splendid Tonic,
A Pleasant Beverage
A CERTAIN CURE
AND
Preventive of Diseases.

The Zingari Bitters are compounded from a prescription of the celebrated Egyptian Physician Dr Cheopsus, who, after years of trial and experiment discovered the Zingara Herb—the most remarkable vegetable production the earth perhaps has ever yielded—certainly the most effective in the cure of disease. It, in combination with the other valuable properties of which the Zingari Bitters is composed, will cure

Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Billious Fever, Cholic, Colds, Bronchitis, Consumption in its first stage, Flatuleney, Nervous Debility, Female Complaints, Rheumatism, Dysentery, Acute and Chronic Diarrhoea, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Yellow Fever, Scrofula, Diseases of the Kidneys, Habitual Costiveness, &c., &c.

In the prevention and cure of the above diseases, it has never been known to fail, as thousands of our most prominent citizens throughout the country will testify. Let but a trial be had for circular containing testimonials and certificates of those who have been cured after their cases have been pronounced hopeless by our best physicians.

POST OFFICE, CONFEDRIT X ROADS, (Wich is in the State of Kentucky,) May 1, 1869

The dimocrisy uv the country are not in that happy condishen jest at this time that I cood wish, as the satrap at the head uv the government, and his subordinate satraps at the heads uv the departments, hev not left as many openins ez they ought to for our good, and the reduckshon uv the expenditoors uv the government so persistently followed up is death to us. We want groanin, but it must be uv the dismist clerks and army officers. Hed the government put a garrison into every town ez we pre fessedit wood, and cood we hev hed this summer in addition, the potater rot, weevil, frost, locusts, floods, drouth, yeller fever and cholery, we mite hev stood some chance uv carryin the fall eleckshuns, for the people would hev murmured. But ez long ez everything is smooth they laff at us when we insist upon a change, and say, jeeringly, "Go up, old bald head!"

And in addishen to these calamities we hev bin, or are jest about bein, deprived uv the nigger, wich hez bin our cheef and best holt. O, wat a back slidin there hez bin in this matter! O, wat a levelen there hez bin uv the walls uv the dimocratic Zion! O, wat a goin back there hez bin on dimocratic cardinal principles!

Feelin an uneasinis in my mind ez to the condishen uv the public mind in the northern states on the adopshen uv the fifteenth amendment I determined to try a most hazardous experiment. I hed no fears uv Kentucky, none. Kentucky will git ready to adopt an an idea ninety years after date, but I felt that I wantid to be satisfied ez to the soundnis uv the Ohio and Injy. any dimocricy on this question.

To this end I determined to resort to strategy. I want to know precisely the feelin entertained in those states regardin the Afrikin. I wanted to see with my own eyes the skornful look wich wuz formerly slung at Africs' sons; I wanted to here agin from dimocratic lips that cheerin expression, "D—n the nigger, anyhow!" To accomplish this I determined to personate a nigger, and in that guise to go boldly into Ingeany, announce myself ez an Afrikin nigger, determined to assert his rites, and note the result. I expected, uv course, to be hooted and reviled. I expected to be stoned and shot at, but I would thereby kill two birds with one stun, viz; I wood disgust the Ingeanians with nigger exality, ez they wood see to wat it wuz leadin, and I could exhibit my scars to Kentucky ez proof uv the stedfastnis uv their northern friends.

Wat I determine upon I do. In my younger days the feat involvin the possession uv a horse, wich resulted in my bein tried for grand larceny, and convicted thereof by 12 prejoodist joory men, and my incarcerashen from wich I wuz only releeved becoz my vote wuz needed to carry Pennsylvany for Bookannon, this masterpeece was conceeved and execooted in less than four hours. Unforchnitly the courts wuz nearly as expedishus, for four days thereafter I found myself in a Basteel.

I entered Ingeany ez a white man; I rejestered my name at a hotel ez a white man, but left it a nigger, wich transformashen wuz accomplished by means uv burnt cork, in my room; wich transformashen wuz uv double yoose, ez it enabled me to leeve my hotel without likidatin my account, wich otherwise wood hev bin impossible. The county in wich I landed wuz a close one, the two parties bein nearly tied, neither hevin fifty votes to spare, and there bein over a hundred niggers in this county, the Afrikin will, ef he votes, hold the balance uv power.

With my hands and face black to the color uv nite, and assumin the character uv a preacher in the M. E. Afrikin church, wich character I cood assoom, ez the burnt cork hid the acquired color uv my nose, I sallied forth boldly. Procoorin the locashen uv the leadin dimocrat uv the county, wich wuz also the candidate for sheriff, I sought him out and demandid a subscription for a Afrikin church, wich I assertid I wuz desirous uv erectin in the east part uv the county, and uv wich I wuz the pastor in charge, holdin myself at the time in such a posishen that a kick cood de but little damage.

I wuz not kickt.

On the contrary quite the reverse! The gushen candidate kindly, blandly and winningly begged me to be seated; he asked me, with tears uv interest gushin from his eyes ez to the prospex uv our Zion; ez to how many we numbered, male and female, adult and youthful, and wether or not we coodent indulge a reasonable hope that many more uv our color mightn't be indoost to leave the south and settle in the county.

Hopin to frighten him with nigger emigrashen, wich I had heard him denounce not a year before in onmitigated terms, I ansered promptly that I wuz even then arrangin for the removal uv three thousand into the county.

"Thank the Lord!" sed he, "The admirashen I feel for the Afrikins—the respek I hev for ther many qualities uv head and heart make me say, in the language uv the inspired writer "The more the merrier." Here is my humble contribooshen to yoor church," handen me $10, "take it, and may the Lord bless its yoose. And next fall, after the amendment is ratified, and yoor people git the rites wich wuz allus therein, I trust you will remember at the polls them wich hev stood yoor friends, uv whom I am wich."

Pumfoundid, I staggered over to another who wuz candidate for treasurer, and to my surprise and horror he not only give $10, but took me by the arm in a most affeckshnit manner, and insisted on takin me round and assistin me in raisin the amount I needid. Feelin that so far ez hatin the nigger wuz concerned, all wuz lost, I recklessly went with him, and reely did raise $160 cash off uv the candidates for the county officers and one wich desires to orkepy a seat in congris. Only wunst wuz this wretch non plussed. Turning a corner sharp we came upon suthin like fitteen gintleman who wuz a workin on the streets with a ball attached to em. The minit his eyes struck em he loosed his holt uv me and shot ahed, keepin in advance till we turned the next corner.

"Why this manoeuver?" askt I, thankful that he had even that means uv originel democratic feelin in him.

"My dear sir!" replied he, "You'll excuse me, but the fact is, I'm in a prekarous situashen. I'm a candidate and its close. Them gentleman with the ball and chain hev votes, and they hev a most cruil prejoodise agin those uv yoor color. We must humor their idiosyncrasies till we kin correct em. The time is comin, and I'm laborin for it nite and day, when it will be removed. My dear sir, at the polls this fall will yoo and yoor flock remember the sacrifis I hev made and am makin?

But I did come to greef. One uv these candidates insisted upon takin me, nigger as he sposed me to be, home to his house to dinner. Injoodishus ez it wuz I went, and ther I met my fate. he led me to a chamber, and without thinkin uv the burnt cork on my hands, I undertook to wash em, wich I make a pint uv doin regierly twice a week.

The first splash in the water showed me my blunder. Off came the color, and I stood afore him a white man in disguise. He gave me one look at my hands and then the kickin! Igno miniously he led me to the front door, and one kick landed me on the sidewalk. Thank Heaven he coodent kick that $160 out uv my breeches pocket!

It is needless to pursoo this disgustin subjict further.

Ez a nigger I wuz welcomed; when it wuz known that I wuz a white man I wuz ignominously kickt? Is this the beginin uv a new order of things? Is the niggers to receeve all the smiles hereafter uv dimocrats who want office? I fear me. No sooner is ther a probability uv this race gittin a vote than the dimocratic leaders forgittin ther proud Canoeshen blood, forgittin the difference in the anatomical structor uv the two races, and forgittin that the minit they give the nigger a vote, ther daughters must all marry niggers; they forgit all this, an I cuddle with em the same ez they ullus hev with other inferior classes.

I returned home weary and sad, and silent. I hed nothin to say to Bascom; no cheerin word to sling at Deekin Pogram. They didn't know wat I went for nor how I went, nor shel they ever know. I am, however, satisfied that I must immejitly make a shift into eathin. My time here is rapidly drawin to a close—the shadders is closin round me, and the nite is at hand.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, P. M., (Wich means Post Master.)

The Germans and Temperance.

We frequently hear it asserted that we need not look for sympathy and encouragement from our German population. To a certain extent this may be true, but we are satisfied among the better class of Germans, especially the religious portion, there is a strong and growing element in favor of sobriety, law and order. In looking over our German exchanges for items favorable to the temperance cause we are not always disappointed, although as regards the political press it is rare to find sound and logical arguments in favor of temperance.

The Christian Messenger, published in this city, has a communication nearly two columns long, in which arguments of the most effective nature are clearly and impressively set forth.

We use this expression advisedly, for say what we may about the physical aspects of the question, the consideration of the subject in a pecuniary point of view will always command attention.

We wish we had space for a complete translation of the article, but can only give enough to show our readers the style and spirit of the writer:—

"We as a nation expend every year fourteen hundred million dollars for spirituous liquors. Every year so much money worse than thrown away.

Take this sum in one dollar greenbacks and then place them in a line and it would reach more than seven times round the earth. If this money was wanted to pay off the national debt, every dollar of the debt would be paid in three years, and enough remain to purchase Cuba and Mexico. This sum is only about one hundred millions less than all the railroad property in the land. It is ten times more than sufficient to buy all the church property in the nation. It is more than the aggregate production of costly metals derived from all states and territories west of the Rocky mountains for the past twenty years."

And yet we are told that we have not sufficient grounds upon which to build a political temperance party, and that the discussion of this tremendous national evil is dragging temperance into politics! What question, we ask in the name of humanity, approaches in magnitude and importance to this?

The Messenger selects the state of Wisconsin to illustrate the subject still further. The money which this state pays every year for that which is not bread, would build 300 churches worth $15 000 each, 2400 school houses at $5000 each, 30 colleges, each with an endowment of $250,000, 60 hospitals with an endowment of $180,000 each. In addition to the above it would purchase 600 public libraries at $5000 each, 6 printing presses, and furnish a good daily paper to every family in the state!

And now after these facts are well digested and stored away in the mind, we have another to add, and that is that Ohio expends three times more in this accursed traffic than does Wisconsin!

Our republican and democratic friends at their conventions will build their platforms with nicely prepared planks on suffrage, finance, reconstruction and tariff, but who supposes they will have a word to say about this overwhelming moral, physical, financial, in a word this political evil we have been considering?—Temperance Era, Cleveland.

The Principle Which Gives Relish to Food and Drink.

Much too little has hitherto been thought by physiologists, and most nothing has been written on that beautiful provision for our happiness by which everything that is useful as food or drink is most agreeable to the palate, so that the higher our relish for any given article, the more easily is it digested and made to supply the wants of the system; we have, therefore, a natural guide to the right kind of food at the right time, and, on the other hand, have a disrelish for articles which, not being suited to our condition, would be injurious. But a little reflection will show us that in this adaptation of our palate to the peculiar taste or osmazome of every distinct article of food, we have a faithful sentinel, inviting the admission of friends and protecting us from the approach of enemies. Place before a child who has never tasted sugar, or butter, or superfine flour, or any other elements of food that have been separated from their natural connections, and whose tastes are therefore unperverted, milk, unbolted bread, meats, fruits, or any other natural food, and he will choose just that article which is best adapted to his condition at the time, and may be trusted to eat as much as he pleases.

But the taste is perverted with food in which the flavor is excessive, as in butter, sugar, fine flour, &c., and it is no guide, but deceptive.

And here we are liable to err. Our natural gustatory pleasures are not in proportion to the amount of osmazome in our food and drink. Nature's flavors are very delicate, and the choicest relish is that produced by very slight traces of osmazome. For example, take nutmeg, a very slight grating of which will flavor a large bowl of porridge. Attempt to increase the relish by increasing the quantity of the spice, and you utterly fail, making your beverage less and less agreeable as you increase the quantity of nutmeg, till it becomes disgusting, and positively injurious to the digestive process, and this is true of all other condiments. and, indeed, all other good things. Delicate flavors are agreeable and useful in prompting digestion; but every article which is capable of promoting health and happiness in appropriate quantities, is capable of doing harm in unnatural quantities.—Dr Bellows.

Bitters.

Perhaps no business pays so large a per cent upon the capital invested as the manufacture of patent medicines. The Americans gulp down patent pills by the pint, and patent fluids, especially bitters by the gallon. There is scarcely a bar tender in the country, who has the sense to concoct pleasant flavored bitters and the money to advertise them extensively, who cannot make a fortune in a few years. Some of these bitters may be made of pure liquor and water, but nine-tenths of them are the most villainous and health destroying compounds. Drake, of the extensively advertised Plantation Bitters, we are told, was a New York bar-tender who knew how to mix a pleasant drink, and who determined to make a fortune out of it, as his trade mark S T 1860 X indicate, which we are told means, 'Sure thing for a fortune in ten years from 1860, the year in which he began to advertise the bitters. Two or three fortunes have already been made, and a number more are likely to follow, for the public will swallow any stimulant that tastes goods and doesn't produce immediate nausea and death.

Some of these patent medicines are made of harmless materials. An extensively advertised pill, which made the proprietor a handsome fortune in Cincinnati, we are told, is made of soap, and soap of the cheapest quality, the manufacturer purchasing wagon loads of the rough country made article. These are doubtless calculated to work their passage through, and may be comparatively harmless. The anecdote of the London pill maker serves to show up a large class of these medicine men. He knew the weakness of the public for medicine and longevity, and so invented the Methuselah Pill, announcing to the world that the discovery had been made that Methuselah had been preserved to such a great age by the regular use of a medicine, the ingredients of which were in the documents discovered. These ingredients he had combined into a pill which he offered to the public. The story goes that there were enough gullible people in England to give the man a fortune for his pills, which were compounded of two articles which neutralized each other.

The Indian medicines are very popular with a portion of the people. They have great faith in Indian herbs and the half wizard skill of Indian medicine men. The Red Jacket Bitters are known to the public. They have been given to a suffering world with the announcement that the famous chief, Red Jacket possessed in his time a sovereign remedy for most of the ills of the flesh. This remedy has been put into the shape of bitters, and is manufactured at Chicago. Recently an opposition bitters sprang up and the matter got into the courts. The opposition bitters a few days since offered testimony, on a motion to dissolve an injunction, which the Chicago Tribune says, shows that the Red Jacket if the analysis be true, is a very weak article of common whisky and water.

Nothing is easier than to take bad liquor, capsicum and dirty water, with some flavoring matter, and make a bitters which will pay five hundred per cent. upon the cost of manufacture. They may be advertised as a cure for all the ills of life, for if taken freely they will for the time being, make a poor man feel rich, a fool wise, and a miserable man happy. In the end, however, they will break down the stomach, muddle the brain and ruin the health.

The London Horse Book furnishes the following hints, which owners of horses would do well to heed:

Many horses are made vicious from cruel treatment.

More horses fall from weariness than any any other cause.

When a horse falls, he is often more frightened than his rider.

A frightened animal cannot use its senses aright; it must first be reassured by gentle treatment.

It is speed that kills the horse.

Never strike an animal upon the head.

Careless application of the whip has blinded many horses.

More horses are lamed from bad shoeing than from all other causes together.

Never kick nor scream at a horse, nor jerk the bit in his mouth.

304 tf J. K. WILDER, Akron.

Where is Drake S T 1860 X? We have heard this question asked many times, and for all we knew for a year past he might be dead. Recently, in New York, we called at his labratory in Liberty street., and there found this gentleman barricaded behind a tremendous pile of boxes, distributing funds to a Sunday school committee. Our business was to secure an advertisement. He said: 'My dear sir, what is the use of advertising the Plantation Bitterr? They sell better now than when I advertised at such an enormous rate, and now I have not made a contract for a year. I have all this amount to give to the poor. To satisfy the press, however, who have always been my friends, I think I will give you a little something to do again, for I have improved the bitters greatly, and it may be well to have you let the people know it.' And so he ran on, in a happy, cordial appreciative manner, showing us the wonders of his place and the cords of certificates. Everything is an a magnificent scale, and is done with neatness and promptness. While there we saw at least forty orders come in for these celebrated bitters. Cases were being shipped to the four corners of the world. Darke is not dead, nor his bitters either.—Exchange paper.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.—1y274
